

ABSTRACT

An elevated support assembly cooperable with a counter top for the making of pizza and insuring that the pizza peel, nor the oven floor become contaminated from spilled toppings, support assembly having a support surface for supporting a pizza peel in a horizontal position for positioning the pizza crust on the pizza peel, the elevated support surface being less than the area of the area of the pizza peel, and at least one of the support surfaces of the support accessory extending vertically downwardly from one edge thereof so as to abut and engage the edge of the counter top for stability.